

JINR Newsletter #35, 19 September 2025

Dear colleagues and friends,

The 138th session of the JINR Scientific Council (SC) took place in Dubna. The meeting focused on the Director's report about the Institute's recent activities. Alongside the SC session, JINR hosted the first meeting of the International Scientific Advisory Board of the Natural Science Review journal.

This week Dubna - our common home on the Volga - welcomed representatives of several JINR Member States. The international Baldin seminar gathered researchers from eight countries at the Laboratory of High Energy Physics. A Cuban delegation visited the Institute to discuss cooperation prospects. Azerbaijani writer Shirmamed Nazarli presented his book, The Attraction of Science-5, at JINR.

Read the latest issue of the JINR Newsletter to find out next OGANESSION Prize laureates, learn about life and scientific career of Mikhail Meshcheryakov, and see the results of the Dubna city Spartakiad.
